Auditorium gets ax

Field house also out of school job

To include an auditorium or not that was the question when Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District trustees met Monday to decide on school bond expenditures.

Combine CD for county

Vernon Hammons of the Mississippi Civil Defense outlined to the Hancock County board of supervisors Monday a plan to combine all civil defense units within the county into one organization.

Such a move, claimed Hammons, would trim a present duplication of paper work and provide a more organized force to be available in the event of disaster. He then cited innumerable instances in which local CD units had operated and co-operated in the saving of life.

Central communications form a big part of such an undertaking and to assist in their establishment matching funds are available for the creation of emergency centers, Hammons said.

On county fire fighting services, Hammons indicated matching funds were available for certain items of equipment that could be employed by a

Architect Charles Priddy was kept busy on the adding machine as trustees suggested alternatives and modifications to stay within monies available.

Eventually the decision was made. The auditorium and field house slated for the new high school had to go. Air conditioning was retained as was the full schedule of construction at Waveland and Valena C. Jones schools.

Skating with a bare $8,662 overage for unforeseen expenses the board approved a construction tab of $1,157,551.

"We are going to have a first class school," said Robert Hamilton, board president, "and to do that it is better to delete some items, altogether than skimp and do a second rate job. We have the design and original specifications intact. The auditorium can be added at a later date as and when funds become available."

Broken down into individual items final estimates submitted and tentatively awarded were: on the high school, W. M. Craig of Gulfport, general contractor, $509,207; Mississippi Mechanical Contractors of Hattiesburg, $174,995; E. C. Ernst, of Gulfport, electrical contractor, $94,760; Lamella Roof Systems, Inc. of Memphis, Tenn., domes over gymnasium and cafeteria, $62,855; Hemenway Furniture Inc. of New Orleans, La., for cafeteria kitchen equipment, $22,165; Martin School Equip-

MTF count hits 5,527

It's up again this week at Mississippi Test Facility. Employment now totals 5,527 for a new high as NASA's static test site for the moon rockets moves toward completion.

The count includes NASA, 88 permanent and 59 with the task force; General Electric Co., 1,441 GE sub-contractors 917 construction and installation workers 2,469 including 166 from the Corps of Engineers on the site and seven at the real estate office; Boeing 56, North American Aviation 482 and Weather Bureau 8.

The central control building is being occupied and the permanent telephone exchange behind that structure is to be into operation Aug. 1.

Jackson M. Balch, MTF manager, is on two weeks military leave as a colonel with the Alabama National Guard.

Seventy students and faculty members from Jackson State College toured the installation last Friday en route to New Orleans. The group lunched in the cafeteria during the noon hour. It was noted most visitors were urged to eat before 11 a.m. or after 1:30 p.m. to avoid congestion for workers.

Chamber pushes 4-laning

Continued interest in the four-laning of US 90 from the Rt. 43 intersection to the Louisiana state line was displayed by the Hancock Chamber of Commerce board of directors Monday night when it passed a resolution concerning the highway improvement plan.

"The four-laning of existing stretch of U.S. 90 from its intersection at Rt. 43 to the Louisiana state line," directors resolved, "is of primary importance to the growth of this section of Hancock County with the four-laning of Rt. 43 from the intersection of U.S. 90 to Interstate 10 interchange being of secondary importance."

The chamber had previously studied plans of the proposed improvements and Joseph Marchino, president, had conferred with Highway Commissioner John Smith on the four-laning.

On the motion of Wilson Webb, the directors expressed the belief that Bay St. Louis and Waveland should support an application for service by United Gas now pending before UNITED FUND OFFICERS - Two appointments were announced this week by E. J. Arceneaux, campaign chairman. Charles Russ, III, left, of Pearlinton has been appointed vice fund raising chairman for the county at large, and William M. Frisbie, of Bay St. Louis, vice chairman for the city and the highway. Agencies in United Fund include American Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Retarded Children, Mental Health and Blood Bank.

Tight nurse mart eyed by hospital

Loss of nursing personnel to construction companies and coastal hospitals offering higher salaries caused Hancock General Hospital trustees to review local nursing staff salaries last Wednesday.

Administrator Thomas O. Logue reported a continuing loss of nurses who could not be replaced on the present non-competitive pay scale.

Trustees noted a salary increase would present problems due to a limited funds but agreed that starting salaries at other local hospitals almost equalled those of long time employees at Hancock General.

"We cannot increase the nurses salaries unless we raise our room rent," said trustee John Rutherford, an opinion shared by fellow board member T. T. Reboul.

After considerable discussion it was agreed to defer the matter until meetings with other hospital administrators can be arranged. These sessions will attempt to introduce a standard nursing salary scale for the entire Gulf Coast area.

Acting on a suggestion by Logue, trustees agreed to enter a co-operative advertising campaign with other hospitals in an attempt to attract more nursing personnel to the area. The advertisements would portray the advantages to be gained by working on the coast.

New drugs and supplies for the new hospital wing contributed towards expenses amounting to $15,059 incurred during June operations. Logue said the hospital could not meet expenses without a minimum daily patient load of 30. The highest number of patients cared for in one day during June was 43 while the lowest number totalled 24. Four hundred and eight persons were treated in the emergency room during the same period.

Size, task unchanged, MTF answers rumors

There will be no territorial expansion of NASA's static testing facilities in Hancock County. Neither will there be any construction or launching of moon rockets at Mississippi Test Facility.

So declared Mack Herring of the MTF public affairs office as another wave of "expansion" rumors swept the area. The answer to all three speculations is "an unqualified no," he asserted.

To begin with, the Saturn V S-II stage will be the work horse of the program throughout the 1970s, Herring noted. The S-II stage has a one million pound thrust. The big boosters being constructed at Michoud

TOP TRACTOR DRIVER - Elmer Ferguson, student of Hancock North Central School, won first place honors in tractor driving at 4-H State Congress last week. Event, at Mississippi State University, was attended by over 1,200 4-H members.

County schools seek role in Youth Corps

Attorney Walter James Phillips answering an inquiry from Hancock Central High School Superintendent Chester H. Blalock, who is endeavoring to initiate a division of the newly established Youth Corps at his school, told school board trustees on Saturday that as far as he had been officially informed their submitted plan of compliance had been accepted by the federal government.

In an attempt to clarify the issue further Phillips dictated a letter to Jack Tubbs, state superintendent of education in Jackson.

"I have been requested by the school board to inquire as to whether the plan of compliance submitted by Hancock County has been accepted or rejected," read the letter. "We have read conflicting newspaper reports but as you know a decision of this board can only be taken by official notification and not as reported in the newspapers. It will be appreciated if you could ascertain the current status of our application."

In the matter of applicants for jobs to be fulfilled by members of the Youth Corps it was unanimously agreed by trustees that no discrimination would be shown in the matter of employment.

Under the Economic Opportunity Act and working through the National Employment Service it is possible to employ students and others of similar age through the recently established Youth Corps. The school board would have to sanction and sponsor the move and those involved could work 40 hours per week during summer and 15 hours per week while attending classes. Youths who have dropped out from school would, it appears, be equally eligible and could maintain the 40-hour figure.

Trustees, after inquiring who would select boys for such employment, were informed by Blalock that the school would solicit under the guidance of the board.

Further correspondence to follow with the regional office of NES who have expressed interest in inquiries received to date from the system.

On the question next raised by Blalock, that of the school board contracting directly with the federal government, Phillips said this had been done before and this latest item would

With bonds, architect Move on Courthouse

Faced with the problem of spending $200,000 to renovate and modernize the old Courthouse or $900,000 to construct another, the Hancock County board of supervisors voted Monday for the new building.

Including provision for adequate parking, a new jail, county offices and a 1 to 15 acre site to allow for future expansion, the project may reach $1,300,000.

H. G. Dean of Beat 1 pointed out the supervisors had been talking about this for two years and the public is aware of the necessity for a new building. Dean submitted some building renovation estimates and said even if the repairs were made it would still be inadequate, fail to provide sufficient inside space or outside parking area.

He then moved that the supervisors announce their intention to issue $1,300,000 in bonds or so much as thereof may be necessary to build and construct a new and adequate courthouse with adequate parking facilities. The structure shall be located within the boundaries of Beat 5 at a place to be selected by the board of supervisors with the thought in mind that the building should be located as near as possible to the present structure. Advertising of this notice of intention will first appear next week.

Dolph Keller of Beat 2 seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

August Perez, Jr., of August Perez and Associates, New Orleans was retained on a contingency basis as architect for the new structure. He spoke of estimates he had made on both the renovations and the new building.

Two years ago on inspecting this Courthouse, recalled Perez. "We found the plumbing and wiring obsolete and the foundations in bad condition." He estimated it would take $140,000 to renovate and modernize the structure and a further $35,000 to install air conditioning. Renovations would include repair and replacement of walls and ceilings, an additional room, a new roof and repairs to the jail.

Perez produced a suggested plan for a new building which he said had been planned to provide for growth of the area

The Public Service Commission. The resolution noted it appears annexation by Bay St. Louis and Waveland will not be accomplished in the next two years which will be the greatest growth period, and since United Gas Co. has applied for a franchise to serve a large portion of the county, including large portions immediately adjacent to Waveland and Bay St. Louis.

Marochino reported on a meeting with local officials toward improving Hancock County Airport. Wehrs was appointed to a committee to study proposed airport plans.

As the complete state of each house was not known Trustee Eric Larsen is to obtain some estimate of cost. "If necessary," said Edward Orte, board president, "we can appear before the board of supervisors and request monies for the alteration and repair of school owned buildings."

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Mildred Dubuisson Parker of Pass Christian; two daughters, Mrs. Revis Niolet of Gulfport, Mrs. James Lader of Pass Christian; one brother, Samuel B. Funeral services will be at 4 p.m. today at Riemann's Funeral Home chapel in Pass Christian. Rev. Durrle Hardin of Trinity Episcopal Church officiating. Burial will follow in Live Oak Cemetery.

Eric N. Byrd

Eric Norman Byrd, 41, native of Kiln, was suffocated to death in a fire July 12 at the home he occupied at 119 Fourth St., Piquette. Firemen found his body in the bathroom where he apparently had tried to escape from the flames which scorched the house.

on the J-2 rocket engines. As such it will serve Michoud, Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville, Ala., and Cape Kennedy, Fla., Herring noted. Rocketry division of North American Aviation—not a part of North American's phasing operation here—will operate the center which also will do minor repairs on the big F-1 engines. The components center will employ a limited number of highly skilled technicians.

Because of MTF's location 18 miles from the Gulf of Mexico, it is obvious no launching of rockets could be undertaken here, the public affairs officer said. NASA is aiming for 99.99 reliability on the Saturn V, but there is always the chance it has to be exploded after a launch, he explained. Besides, Yucatan is due south, Texas and Mexico are to the west and Florida and Cuba to the east.

The $260 million installation here still represents the second most expensive project underway in the nation today, MILA (Merritt Island Launch Area in Florida) being the most costly at $690 million.

County CD

Scaife said the city of Bay St. Louis would welcome a plan to co-ordinate all CD efforts under one county set-up.

Supervisors agreed to call a meeting of mayors and civil defense personnel to attempt to arrange such an organization. A petition signed by property owners in the Begman Avenue and Beach Boulevard area calling for a restriction on the parking of house trailers was presented to the board by A. D. Gatti.

A lack of sufficient zoning regulations caused supervisors to ponder when Gatti asked for direction in having these units removed.

Inadequate facilities for the disposal of sewage and drain water entered into the discussion as did the possibility of requiring trailers in the county to park in registered parking lots.

It was eventually decided to call on the services of Louis Bisso of Planning Services Inc., and commence zoning certain areas of the county.

worth broke a split two-two tie vote in the matter of carpeting the doctor's library. In explaining his decision Duckworth said he felt re-ordering new tile would be more expensive than having carpet in the room.

A motion by Rutherford calling for a special board meeting on Monday, Aug. 9, to open and discuss bids met the approval of trustees as did a vote to purchase a $1,718 food cart from the Dancoer Co. Logue pointed out the new cart is necessary to accommodate the increasing number of patients.

A proposal by Russell Baker Loan Co., to finance patients' accounts was rejected by trustees who felt that a continuation of the present system would be preferred.

Final inspection date for the new wing was set for July 29 as the general contractors were finished and the mechanical and electrical people would complete their jobs within three weeks, according to Logue. He further said the telephone building located behind the main hospital wing had been completed for an approximate cost of $375.

Privileges of new doctors in the hospital formed the subject of amendments made in their by-laws by doctors but on a motion by Cornelius Lader trustees agreed to defer taking action towards approving same until the medical staff can meet with the board and explain the proposals.

The public is invited to attend said meeting.

Double Beauty

Double Duty

with FLAMELESS electric washers and dryers*

According to an old saying, the best way to kill time is to work it to death. A double-duty electric washer-dryer combination will save you valuable time.

First, it assures that you'll be able to wash "on time" -- not just when the weather permits. Then, too, you won't have to spend time doing the wash. It's all being done automatically while you're tending to other things.

*Installation of an electric dryer may qualify you for a wiring allowance and housepower panel

Time -- and effort -- are saved in lugging heavy baskets of wet clothes to the line and stretching and stooping to put them out to dry.

We won't promise that a flameless washer-dryer will give you a 36-hour day. But it will "squeeze" extra hours out of a normal one.

Pony, Little tourney won by Bank and 7-Up

An action packed day of hardball closed under the lights as the Parks and Playground Commission's annual fund raising all-day tourney ended victoriously for the Hancock Bankers of the Pony Division and Seven-Up of Little League.

The Hancock Bank nine registered a 16-2 victory over Youth Center Kids and Seven-Up felled early to upset Riemann's 5-4. It was the Bankers game to win as the local bunch cashed in 11 runs in the first inning, two runs in the second and one in the third behind the power hitting of David Compretta, and Mike Meyers, 2-3 and Bert Chevis with a four bagger. Youth Center scored its two runs in the final frame when Jay Warner raced home on B. Dougher's triple and P. Murray crossed the plate on a series of Banker errors.

Sylvan Ladner chalked up the mound victory fanning six of the 14 men that faced him and Phillip Ferguson suffered the loss.

In Little League finals, Seven-Up opened the scoring early by putting three runs on the scoreboard in the second inning adding two more tallies in the third. This on three hits by David Kenny, Niel and Eddie Favre. Riemann's Darold Carlot suffered the mound loss but stood-out in the big R's defense crossing the plate three times with two singles and a homer to his credit. Seven-Up's Gary Yarbrough was credited with the win.

Quick action may save fish

A trip in an outboard motor driven boat across local lakes and ponds may save the fish reports William A. Grist of the Game and Fish Commission.

Hot days, warm nights and overcast skies cause excess carbon dioxide to accumulate in the water and the sight of fish rising to the surface and gasping for air should be enough for sportsmen to take individual action then call the commission.

Without the desired level of dissolved oxygen fish cannot live.

Bay All-Stars take hardball double header

The All-Stars now boast a 3-1-0 record with one game resulting in a 2-2 tie and called because of darkness. Plans are being made by manager Larry Mathis to schedule hardball powers from the Gulfport, Biloxi and Pascagoula areas.

Bay All-Stars take hardball double header

Larry Mathis and Larry Favre hurled the Bay St. Louis All-Stars to 11-6 and 6-4 victories over the Vancleave All-Stars in Sunday's hardball doubleheader at Long Beach.

Mathis won the first game and Favre hurled the second by striking out 13 opponents.

It proved a day for the Bay

Quick action may save fish

A trip in an outboard motor driven boat across local lakes and ponds may save the fish reports William A. Grist of the Game and Fish Commission.

Hot days, warm nights and overcast skies cause excess carbon dioxide to accumulate in the water and the sight of fish rising to the surface and gasping for air should be enough for sportsmen to take individual action then call the commission. Without the desired level of dissolved oxygen fish cannot live.

The All-Stars now boast a 3-1-0 record with one game resulting in a 2-2 tie and called because of darkness. Plans are being made by manager-player Larry Mathis to schedule hardball powers from the Gulfport, Biloxi and Pascagoula areas.

12-1 winning record takes League honors

Trapani's Knack-Knock, the only squad in Bay Men's Softball League history to compile a perfect 14-0 win-loss record, walked off the field Monday night with a 12-1 season standing and the Men's League championship. Trapani have one game remaining to round out the season and could possibly set another league record by registering 13 wins in one season. The men in green finish against Travis' Lounge on Monday night.

Trapani's only loss came weeks ago in a game with a story book ending, when Southern Realty, defending city champions, came through under pressure after being downed one run in the bottom of the seventh to score a 5-3 victory on W. J. Cameron's home run hit to deep center.

Southern Realty currently holds second place with a 10-3 mark losing to Catholic Youth Organization twice and Trapani's Knack-Knock once.

The Realtors meet Chateau Seu on Friday and a win will assure them of a second place tie with CYO and a loss will knock them into third place with Chateau Seu.

Filling in the third position is Father Kelly's CYO with a 9-3 standing and two more games scheduled against Jerry and Mary's on Wednesday and Pearlington Barber Shop on Friday. The CYO's lost two straight contests in the first round falling to the hands of Trapani's 8-7 on Dusty Rhodes' home run over the 216 ft. fence in deep center in the bottom of the eighth inning and lost to Chateau 7-6. In the second round, CYO lost to Traps again, but this time by an overwhelming 16-5 margin.

Chateau Seu holds fourth position with a 8-4 mark. Chateau lost to Trapani's twice, Southern Realty and CYO once, and have to play Pearlington Barber Shop and Southern Realty to round out their '65 campaign.

The top four squads will meet in a round-robin play-off with the first place finishers meeting the fourth place men and the second squad meeting the third place team in a series of the best two-out-of-three contests. The winners in each bracket will then advance to the finals to play for the coveted city crown.
